[Image Description: Groups of students sit and stand, talking in clusters. The profiles of the students of different ages, races, and abilities is on a colorful background of yellow, orange, and green. The dominant image is the silhouette of a male student in dark blue reading a book. The title is: One Out of Five: Disability History and Pride Project. “One” and “five” are spelled out in American Sign Language. At the bottom, Braille reads: “pride” and “history.”]
Summary

In 2008, Washington state legislature passed a law declaring October as Disability History Month. Until now, schools have created their own approaches to honor the month. The title of this project is One Out of Five: Disability History and Pride because 1 out of 5 people in the United States has a disability, and this resource is designed to celebrate the history and identities within this large and diverse community. One Out of Five was designed by the Washington State Governor’s Office of the Education Ombuds (OEO) in partnership with two local educators, Adina Rosenberg and Sarah Arvey, as a guide for schools to address Disability History Month.

OEO has also partnered with Rooted in Rights, the video production team of Disability Rights Washington, to create student voice videos centered around Washington middle schoolers with disabilities, featured in Lesson 1 and in a separate discussion guide.

The resource has five lessons, 30 - 45 minutes each:
- Lesson 1: Introduction to Disability
- Lesson 2: Intersectionality
- Lesson 3: Disability History within the United States
- Lesson 4: Disability History within Washington State
- Lesson 5: Allyship

Each lesson contains:
- Scripted lesson plan
- Link to ELA Common Core State Standards (CCSS)
- Activities (e.g. worksheets, exit tickets, PowerPoints)
- Differentiation techniques for every lesson component
- Opportunities to extend the lessons by 10 - 30 min
- Additional resources and lesson ideas

One Out of Five is designed for middle school ELA classes, but can be modified for other grade levels or subject areas. This resource can be used during Disability History Month or any other time during the school year. The lessons are designed to be taught in order, but also function as stand-alone lessons and/or activities. Lessons are broken into 5 - 15 min components, and can be used to introduce ideas and vocabulary words on a limited time schedule.

Enduring Understandings

This resource is designed to...
- Humanize the experience of disability by showcasing the voices of people with disabilities
- Help students recognize that disability is not a bad word or a bad thing to have
- Highlight the importance of building inclusive school communities and students’ roles in being allies for people with disabilities
- Consider the role of bias and the history of disability as civil rights, as well as diversity within that movement
- Consider how disability became a more stigmatized experience as the United States emphasized economic productivity and autonomy as measures of human value
- Expand perspectives about United States and Washington history to include people with disabilities over time
- Shift stereotypes and limited ways of thinking about disability to consider the full range of disability experiences
- Make teaching about disability accessible to all teachers and students regardless of background and experience
Essential Questions
The purpose of this lesson is to humanize the experience of disability by focusing on student-voice videos, teach students the difference between disability and impairment, and recognize diversity within the disability community.

- What is disability?
- What obstacles exist in and outside of school for students with disabilities? How can those obstacles be addressed?
- How can assistive devices help people with disabilities?
- What is the difference between a disability and impairment?

Objectives and Standards
Content:
- Identify ways ability and disability presents differently for many people
- Name different types of supports that address obstacles in and out of the school setting (including assistive devices)
- Explain how disability and impairment differ

CCSS:
- CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.CCRA.R.1: Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.
- CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.CCRA.R.2: Determine central ideas or themes of a text and analyze their development; summarize the key supporting details and ideas.
- CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.CCRA.R.3: Analyze how and why individuals, events, or ideas develop and interact over the course of a text.

Vocabulary

Identity:
- Who a person is and what makes them that way

Disability:
- How society makes the differences of people’s bodies and minds into problems

Impairment:
- When a specific part of someone’s body or mind functions in a different way than most people

Assistive technology:
- Any product, device, or service that makes tasks easier or possible for people with and without disabilities

Lesson Options

Intro/Hook (5)
- Intro to vocab words: identity, disability, impairment, assistive technology

Mini Lesson (5)
- Intro to student-voice videos

Guided Practice (15)
- Watch student-voice videos

Ind./Group Work (10)
- Worksheet on videos, embedded within guided practice

Conclusion (2)
- Exit ticket on how disability presents differently for students featured in video

Lesson Extension Options
- Discussion questions after each student-voice video (20 min)
